The Story

Chateau La Rame is among the oldest and most renowned properties in the Sainte Croix du Mont appellation. It ahs been recognized throughout history as one of the prime sites for producing outstanding wines. The property was purchased by Claude Armand, the father of the current owner, Yves Armand, at a time when the appellation had fallen out of favor. The Armand family has undertaken to re-establish Sainte Croix du Mont as an appellation of merit set to rival the great estates of Sauternes and Barsac.
