The Story

Vizcarra is one of the region's most highly-awarded wineries, consistently gaining recognition for their advances in microvinification and impeccable, age-worthy bottles. BIOGRAPHY: The Vizcarra family's legacy can be traced back to 1780, to a time when the family sold 16 liter demijohns of wine along the border zones of Segovia and Burgos. By 1991, his son Juan Carlos joined his father at the bodega and became the first in his family to make estate-bottled wines from the family vineyards.
