Tenuta Sant Anna
Pinot Nero Friuli

The Facts

COUNTRY: Italy
REGION: Friuli-Venezia Giulia
APPELLATION: Friuli

The Story

Tenuta Sant'Anna, which lies some 50 km east of Venice, covers 150 hectares, 140 of which are dedicated to vine growing. It straddles the border between the province of Treviso and the Friuli region, and is one of the largest estate wineries in the eastern Veneto.

In 2015, Riccardo Cottarella, one of Italy's most highly respected and vastly experienced winemakers, joined to contribute his specialist knowledge to the vine growing and wine making team. The team is dedicated to improving vineyard management methods and production protocols, with a goal of expressing the specific characteristics and unique qualities of each individual variety and wine.

The Adjectives

AROMAS / FLAVORS: Hints of red fruits and wild strawberries.
